NEWS OF THE DAY.

Floyd Tiffany, a prosperous young quarry owner, blew himself to shreds yesterday in Middeletown, N. Y., in sight of his mother, by lying down on a stick of dynamite, after lighting the fuse. Alarmed by his melancholy demeanor during the day, Mrs. Tiffany had followed her son down the road from the house to the quarry and saw him draw the dynamite from his pocket. She screamed and ran toward him. Tiffany lit the fuse. "Don't come any nearer mother," he shouted. "This will blow you up. You can't save me. 'm going to die." Mrs. Tiffany never slackened her speed. Her son succeeded in exploding the stick before she got near enough to be killed, but the shock knocked her to the ground unconscious.

The bodies of seven persons, lodgers in a small hotel, known as "Till's Hotel," Greenwich street, New York, were taken from the top floor, following a fire in the building last night. One of the bodies is that of a woman and another of a 3-year-old child. None has been identified. A dozen injured were taken to the hospitals.

With a noose around his neck and members of a mob endeavoring to throw the end of the rope over a limb of a tree, Adolph Philcoin, aged 40, a miner, only escaped summary violence yesterday by the arrival of county detectives in an automobile at Beadling, Pa., below Pittsburg. With drawn revolvers the county officers pushed their way into the crowd, unfastened the rope from Philcoin's neck, rushed him to the automobile, and, amid a heavy fire from revolvers in the hands of the infuriated miners, escaped unscathed toward Pittsburg. Philcoin is accused of attacking a 7-year-old girl. While a rope was being sought some person telephoned to the county detectives' subheadquarters at Bridgeville, Pa.

Harold W. Smith, aged thirty-five, general manager of the Home Gas Co. and a member of one of the most prominent families on the Eastern Shore, of Maryland, was held yesterday afternon by a coroner's jury as being implicated in the death of Florence Wainwright the twenty-four-year-old cashier of the gas company at Salisbury. Smith was immediately arested charged with felonious homicide and being an accessory before and after the fact to the criminal operation which caused the girl's death. Smith is a married man and has two children After spending several hours in jail, he was released on $5,000 bail for the grand jury. One of his bondsmen is Carroll L. Brewington, who was shot by Lee Fields several weeks ago, when the latter caught Brewington in his home with his wife when he returned late at night.

TAKES RIVER TRIP.

Steamer Mayflower Passed Down the River With Executive Aboard.

President Wilson left Washington today on a three-day's trip aboard the yacht Mayflower. The President had intended to take a much needed rest by going to Cornish, N. H., to join his family at the mountain home that is to be the summer White House, but his decision to visit Gettys-burg on July 4th upset all plans. A trip on the Mayflower was suggested by his physician, and the President agreed to go on the condition that he would have complete rest.

No correspondents were aboard, and Mr. Wilson's only companion will be Dr. Cary T. Grayson. No salutes will be fired, no whistles tooted along the way; officers aboard the ship will refrain from extending the formal courtesies of the navy, and so far as possible every effort will be made to give the president complete retirement.

The President plans to return to the White House Thursday night, and will leave for Gettysburg early Friday, after a brief inspection of the camps there and a short address, he plans to go direct to Cornish, to spend Saturday, Sunday and Monday with his family.

FIRST DAY'S SCENES AT GETTYSBURG

Camp Holds More Soldiers Than at Any Time in Fifty Years.

GARRISON ARRIVES.

Veterans' Camp, Gettysburg Pa., July 1.—Gettysburg is today in possession of an army larger than any it has seen since 1863, and, as in those early days, a great part of it came in the night.

From noon yesterday until dawn today, the tramp of feet made a muffled sound along long lanes, the main street of the camp, interrupted frequently by the rattle of ambulances, that were kept busy all night picking up the veterans who had succumbed to weary hours of traveling trains that in some instances were from six to eight hours late.

Secretary of War Garrison, got here this morning from Baltimore, coming in an automobile which the committee sent after him last night.

The hospitals had close to a hundred patients this morning, in addition to the thirty or more who were overcome with the heat in camp yesterday, but a good rest and warm breakfast was all the treatment that many of them needed.

Otto L. Stamm, of Almond, N. Y., died early this morning from apoplexy. He fought with the 27th Massachusetts. His death is the fourth in the camp.

One death occurred yesterday. Edgar Biggsby of Wauwatosa, Wis., was found dying in his tent from complications due to old age, and succumbed soon after being taken to the hospital.

IRATE HUSBAND'S REVENGE.

Has Grocer Photographed in Scanty Garb Before Neighbors.

Marion, Ohio, July 1.—Imediately following the discovery of his wife, Adella Bender, and Charles Kaelber, the family grocer, together a few days ago, John H. Bender, aged forty, a wealthy horseman and stockman, of Waldo township, near here, brought suit in the local courts asking a decree of absolute divorce.

Bender in his bill of complaint declares that he found Kaelber and his pretty young wife at his home. He had been away on a business trip and returned suddenly, surprising the couple.

According to Bender, after he had found his wife and Kaelber together, he fired four blank cartridges into the air to summon some neighbors. He then paraded Kaelber in dishabille in front of the Bender home for the edification of the neighbors and passers-by

After Kaelber had been exhibited to a throng which was drawn to the Bender home by the shooting, Bender decided to have photographs taken of the young grocer as he was dressed when Bender surprised him. Accordingly, a photographer was hurriedly procured and several negatives taken of Kaelber.

Under the persuasion of the revolver Kaelber also dictated a confession, and after it had been written, signed it. After he had passed through the ordeal, the grocer was a nervous wreck.

Not satisfied, however, Bender compelled Kaelber to stand in the middle of the street, holding his hands aloft until the Rev. E. Kettle, a Ltuheran minister, the pastor of the church to which Mrs. Bender belonged, arrived at the house. After the minister and the neighbors had time to look the situation over, Bender told Kaelber to make himself scarce, and to accentuate his speed , fired a couple of bullets dangerously near his legs.

How will they solve this alimony question when women have achieved absolute equality with men?

STATEMENT BY MR. PIERCE.

Is Not President of News Publishing Company.

In regard to the article in yesterday's Gazette concerning the application of Mrs. Nellie V. Ramey for a receiver for the News Publishing Company, Mr. Carroll Pierce when seen this morning stated that the bill of complaint was erroneous in alleging that he was acting as president of the News Publishing Company. Mr. Pierce stated that he is neither an officer or director of the company, and has never been actively connected with it, that he is a stockholder to a small extent, and has loaned the company money at times, but further than this he has not participated in the management of the company's affairs.

Editor's Note:—The article referred to which appeared in yesterday's Gazette was taken from the bill of complaint filed in the suit in which it is alleged that Mr. Pierce is acting as president of the News Publishing Company.

The boys of Company G, of Alexandria, will wear their new uniforms which have just arrived, for the first time next Sunday,when the company, in charge of Captain Slaymaker, leaves for the Beach.

It is expected that the members of the Alexandria Company will develop several expert marksmen during the target practice at the state rifle range, which is located at the Beach, so that they may qualify for participation in the National shoot of the United States Army and marine corps which is held annually at Camp Perry, for the national championship.

The new uniforms for the men are of olive drab khaki cloth of the latest style adopted by the war department for the army. It is the same uniform used now by the regulars and all volunteer troops are being equipped with them as rapidly as possible.

It is stated that experiment shows that the wearer becomes practically invisible in this uniform when at a certain distance from the observer, the color of the cloth blending with the distant background.

Thirty-two companies, with a full completement of military bands and medical corps, composing three regiments of the First Brigade, Virginia volunteers, will mobilize two miles from the Beach.

Major Lawrence T. Price, commanding the four Richmond companies, has ordered his men to entrain at the Byrd street station at 11 o'clock Sunday. At Petersburg, additional coaches containing companies from Petersburg, Lynchburg and Danville will be attached to the train. The rest of the First regiment will follow on in a separate section.

Washington, July 1.—While subpoenas are being served on national figures involved in the startling Mulhall "confession" the Senate investigating committee will take up again tomorrow the scent of the "insidious lobby" about the Capitol.

President Wilson, whose denunciation of lobby methods brought on the present probe, has spurred the committee to renewed activity, and its field is now almost limitless.

Following the President's visit to the Capitol yesterday afternoon, the lobbying investigating committee will begin to probe the Mulhall charges on July 8; the estimony tomorrow and for a few days thereafter will concern the Lovet-Palmer charges that alleged New York lobbyists, by impersonating Congressmen, sought to "goldbrick" Wall stree.

MRS. JACOBS RESIGNS.

Seminary Matron Relinquishes Her Position After Twenty Years' Service.

The friends of the Episcopal Theological Seminary near this city, will hear with much regret of the resignation of Mrs. Jacobs, the effiecient matron of that institution, taking effect at the close of the session of 1912-13. It was accepted at the meeting of the executive Committee of the Education Society of the Episcopal Church in Virginia held yesterday evening at St. Paul's Rectory in this city.

For twenty years Mrs. Jacobs has been the honored matron of the Seminary. She suceeded Miss Mary Rhett who was so well and favorably known to a number of the present alumni. For the past two years Mrs. Jaocbs ahs not been in good health and her condition during the past year has given her friends much solicitude. Still she attended to her duties with her usual care and efficiency until towards the latter part of the past session she felt herself more unequal to the task, and acting under the advice of her physician, Dr. McGuire, she concluded to send in her resignation which was accepted with deep regret.

Mrs. Jacobs on the part of the commitee, was a lady of great administrative ability and won the esteem of the Seminary authorities and others connected with the institution. She leaves with the best wishes of her many friends here and elsewhere for her recovery with true appreciation for her many years of devoted and faithful service to the institution she loved so well.

There is at least one good thing about having July come along. We won't have to hear any more about June brides and sweet girl graduates.

A government official has been suspended for ninety days for kissing a young woman employee. First thing they know they won't be able to get girls to work for them at all.

WATER SERVICE TO BE TESTED

WILL BE HERE JULY 15.

Gauges and Other Testing Apparatus Shipped to Alexandria to be Used on the Occasion.

A. C. Hutson, one of the engineers of the National Board of Fire Underwriters in the fire prevention service, will be in Alexandria about July 15th to investigate the condition of the water works of Alexandria.

Mr. Hutson comes to this city at the request of A. H. Harris, secretary of the Virginia State Insurance Company, which holds a large number of fire risks in this city. Mr. Harris made application to George W. Booth, Chief Engineer of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, who has arranged for this test of the works of the Alexandria Water Company. This is a result of the fire tests that were made by the Committee in Fire prevention which met in Alexandria over a month ago and when the Columbia Steam Fire Engine Company made a test of the Alexandria "water" service at the foot of King street with results not entirely satisfactory to the Fire Prevention Committee so it was said. It was claimed that the steam fire engine could not secure an adequate supply of water from mains through the fire plug, but when connected with the water direct from the Potomac river was able to throw a higher stream.

Guages and other testing apparatus have been shipped to Alexandria in preparation for the visit of the engineer of the National Board who will make the tests of the water service and also look into the question of improving the service if his tests show improvement necessary. Geo. W. Booth, the chief engineer of the fire prevation board, considers this a most vital question and expects to have such tests made as Mr. Hutson finds necessary.

...EW ... THE OLD DOMINION.

... BRINGS ANX...TY

...ceh...ders ... ...ing Changes.

... July 1.—There is a general ...ss felt in all federal service ...loyes who regard the advent ...ew fiscal year, July 1, ...nsion, fearing that the ...n may make changes in ... reorganization simultaneously ...n or shortly following, that ...ustoms service.

...feeling is especially prevalent ...enue circles, in which there are ... deputies, special employes and ...ts of various degrees, who, while ...r the civil service and what de... of protection it affords, are nevertheless looking to the advent of the ... year with some degree of anxiety.

One change which is likely to take place at any time is that in internal revenue collector's office of which M. K. Lowry, is now the incumbent. It has been reported recently that Mr. Lowry would be ousted in the near future and many expect to hear of the appointment of his successor within a day or two. The office is purely one of patronage, the appointment not being made for any specified time, and it is considered a neat "plum."

While Mr. Lowry's deputies are subject to the rules of civil service and may not be ousted without cause, it is held that many causes are available when changes in the force are desired by the "powers that be." For instance, it may be deemed wise by the administration to chop off a few heads and shorten the revenue staff for the good of the serivce." In this case the same reason may demand the addition of several new candidates later on

It is true, however, that, unless the president should exert his prerogative and suspend the civil service for a period every new man taken on would of necessity be chosen from the classified service. Thus it would be difficult for the new collector to choose Democrats exclusively to form his staff. While the president is not expected to take such drastic means as a suspension of the civil service, such things have been known in emergency situations and, in the words of one who is keeping an anxious eye on his berth. "One can never tell in politics.

FEAR LYNCHING.

Negro Fires Bullet Into Head of Man Who Defended Young Lady.

Roanoke, Va., July 1.—With a bullet wound through his head and his life hanging in the balance Geo. Baker, twenty-three years old, a farmer living with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Baker, about six miles from Draper, Pulaski county, lies today in the Jefferson hospital, Roanoke, while a negro named Brown is in the Pulaski county jail, charged with having fired the shot which may cost Baker his life.

The young farmer had been attending a camp meeting at Draper, where he met Brown in the road, the negro pushed a young white woman with whom Baker was walking off the walk, a difficulty ensued and Baker shot the engro inflicting the slight scalp wound. Brown went to his home, secured a revolver and came back to where Baker was. Making his way to the side of the young farmer, the negro placed the pistol near the temple of young Baker and fired the bullet passing through from temple to temple.

A lynching is said to be certain if Baker dies.

ELKS' NATIONAL HOME.

Fred Harper to Urge Bedford as Location of Grand Lodge.

Lynchburg, Va., July 1.—Mr. Fred Harper, member of the Grand Lodge of Elks, and for several years actively interested in retaining in Bedford City the National Home for indigent members of the order, will attend the Grand Lodge meeting in Rochester, N. Y., as a special representative of the lodges of Virginia to lead the sentiment in favor of the Bedford City location for a new home to be constructed. The old plant has become inadequate, in the opinion of the Grand Lodge, and at Portland, Ore., in 1912, $250,000 was assessed to construct a new plant.

It has been urged at various times that the present location of the home has proved disadvantageous in the seven years of its establishment; that members of the order cannot conveniently visit in a place of the isolation of Bedford City. This is practically the only drawback against Bedford City. At each Grand Lodge meeting of recent years a fight has been made against the present status of the home, but the Virginia members have always come out on top in the discussions. It is said that the opposition, while widespread, is scattered and unorganized, while those favoring the Bedford situation are strongly united in their resolution to keep the institution in Virginia.

DRANK LAUDANUM.

Norfolk, July 1.—Because he and his wife had separated Oscar McCorkle, residing at Lee and Ivy St., attempted to end his life Sunday evening by drinking an ounce of laudanum.

They had lived in Norfolk proper until four weeks ago when the separation occurred, and he located her in Berkley. He told his friends before taking the drug that while at Ocean View he saw his wife bathing with others and this was more than he could bear. Returning from the View he purchased the drug and on arriving on nthis side of the river he drank it

Upon reaching his home about 9 o'clock he handed his landlady the empty bottle and informed her that it was all off, that he had ended it all. Dr. Rawls, who was called, pumped most of the drug out of his stomach and aroused him after applying stringent remedies. He was walked the remainder of the night with a view of allowing the effects of the drug to die out.

McCorkle is about 50 years old and came here from Mathews, N. C. He is a molder by trade, and works in the local foundries.

The train, which was a westbound freight, was running at a speed of probably twenty-five miles an hour, and the trainmen were busy with their duties elsewhere, and, consequently, no one saw him fall. His skull was crushed, and death was instantaneous.

The Truth About Electric Cooking

For large families where the average domestic help is employed and a large amount of cooking done, Electric Cooking will be found more expensive, and in most cases not advisable.

In small families, where no help is employed, and where nice equipment is desired, Electric cooking will be found many times more convenient, more certain in results and safer in operation—as well as reasonable in cost.

In every family a few utensils for early breakfast emergency and special uses—and for cheering up cold meals with a warm dish or two—is highly advisable from every standpoint, including that of economy.

VIRGINIA NEWSPAPERS.

The Virginia Press Association, composed largely of owners of daily and weekly newspapers of this State, hold a meeting every summer, which has for its purpose better acquaintance among its members, discussions of questions of mutual interest and particularly for pleasure. At these meetings pleasure usually predominates, and they take little account of the real problems that surround the publication of even the smallest newspaper.

This year, however, the Virginia Press Association received in the annual address of their president, Mr. Charles B. Cooke, some thoughts for consideration that they are not likely to lightly cast aside as soon as read, a fate which comes to most annual addresses under such circumstances.

The Daily News-Record declares that in Mr. Cook's address to the newspaper publishers at Mount Elliott Springs, "he has put his finger on the real business situation of newspapers in this state, and has begun what should be a move for better newspapers and for greater co-operation on the part of the people they serve.

Mr. Cooke, during the year of his incumbency, made an earnest effort to tabulate statistical information regarding the daily and weekly newspapers of the State. He found that a leading newspaper directory lists 257 Virginia publications, of which 191 are secular daily and weekly, the other being religious and college papers. He had printed and sent to each paper a card asking for the name of the paper, the owner or editor, date of its beginning, circulation, publication days and advertising rates. Only ninety-seven papers responded, and of these seventeen were dailies. This shows lack of interest among publishers in their own business.The directory list was incorrect,since their is an astonishing mortality among papers.

"Then Mr. Cooke wrote letters asking for business details—receipts from circulation, inches of advertising and operating expenses. There was but one reply with the information. Some wrote they had no such information; others that they had no means of separating job work expenses from those incurred in running the newspapers.

"Of seventy weekly papers heard from, the average advertising rate was about 10 cents an inch. As Mr. Cooke points out, without other business, such as practicing law or running a grocery store, such a rate would bankrupt any paper in the state. He blames the situation on bad management or no management at all.

"Then he brings out the meat of the whole matter: 'How can you expect to perform your duty to your subscribers and to the Commonwealth if you are so handicapped? When the wolf is continually scratching at the door you cannot discharge your moral obligations to either the reader or the State. An empty pocketbook does not consort with enthusiasm or even with intelligent, hopeful endeavor.' His remedy, of course, is a cost plan, evolved from experience and rigidly adherred to.

"As soon as the publisher realizes that with the increasing cost of white paper and of everything going to make up a publication he loses money on every weekly subscriber at one dollar or on every daily subscriber at three dollars a year; the sooner he finds out what it really costs him to run his paper; the sooner ruinous competition is abandoned for business principles, and the sooner the public realizes the situation and is willing to co-operate and pay for what it gets in circulation and advertising, the greater will be the value received by the community and the State in earnest work on the part of the press for the common good."

Competition in the newspaper business is the fiercest of any we know, says the Richmond Journal, and it takes the knowledge that comes of experience as well as an average degree of wisdom to make a success of any publication in the face of these circumstances.

If the above advice offered by Mr. Cooke—advice that is sound and based on actual facts and the common rule of business—is adopted by the Virginia publishers, it will be better for the owners as well as the communities which their papers supply.

TIMES CHANGE AND MEN CHANGE WITH THEM.

Over fifty years ago Confederate batteries made a trip down the Potomac river, a risky undertaking. Vessels carrying supplies to Alexandria, then the base of the Federal army, occasionally arrived here materially damaged by cannon balls. The United States gunboat Pawnee had in the early part of 1861 engaged the batteries at Aquia Creek and been compelled to withdraw with a battered funnel. Later in stealing by the forts one night, a ball went through the gunboat and in dangerous proximity to her magazine.

At this time General Daniel E Sickles was in command of the Federal forces in Maryland, opposite the batteries. At times the Confederates would invite him to come over, but Sickles kept out of the trap. Shells were flying at intervals during the day and night, and the Confederates showed the greatest eagerness to get at the General and the troops under his command.

General Sickles now in the advanced evening of life, is meeting a few of the old Confederates who defied him and his legion during the early part of 1861, and the survivors of both camps are manifesting the best feelings towards each other. A dispatch from Gettysburg says: "Four Confederates from Virginia and Alabama, carried General Daniel E. Sickles across the Emmittsburg road to be photographed at the monument to the memory of the Eleventh Massachusetts, presented one of the peculiarly interesting incidents of the day here. The Confederates fought in the brigade which attacked Gen. Sickles Third Army Corps.It was in this fight that Sickles lost a leg."

ELEVEN BOYS DROWN.

Appalling Accident at a Municipal Bath House.

Lawrence, Mass., July 1.—Eleven children—boys less than ten years old—were drowned yesterday when a wooden bridge connecting the municipal bath house with the bank of the Merrimac River collapsed.

It is possible that more were drowned. There were at least fifty boys on the bridge when it collapsed. Three dead were found almost at once, and the other bodies were recovered when the river below the scene of the accident was dragged.

The boys were crowded on the bridge awaiting the return from lunch of the caretaker, when the accident occurred.

The bath house was known as the "Little" Bath House because only the youngest children were admitted—only those under eleven. Among the fifty or more that swarmed on the bridge today waiting for the keeper to come back from lunch and open the gates were many as young as six years.

It was the youngest who died. Struck by cracked timbers, terrified and forced down by stronger lads, their chance was hopeless.

There was but four feet of water under the bridge, but that was over the heads of most of the children.

The accident was witnessed by a score of harrowed spectators. Men and even women leaped into the water.

SUN BLOWS UP STORE.

First Explodes Window Fireworks and Place is Wrecked.

Shenandoah, Pa., June 30. —The hot sun yesterday afternoon exploded a quantity of fireworks exposed in the window of the wholesale and retail store of R. Orkin, which in turn set fire to a large quantity in the store and the whole of the front was blown out, wrecking and setting the room afire. Mr. and Mrs. Orkin were badly burned in trying to save some of their goods.

The concussion was so great that it terrorized the neighborhood, causing people to flee from their homes. Women fainted, children screamed, creating the wildest scenes. After an hour's hard battle firemen conquered the flamase. Much damage was done.

Three men and a boy were drowned in the waters around Philadelphia yesterday, two of them while making heroic efforts to rescue companions.

SERVANTLESS HOUSES

Unique Bungalow-group for Virginia Highlands.

Plans are now being prepared for an interesting group of small California Bungalows to be built in Virginia Highlands to fill the great need for proper homes for the women in government employ. The houses will be 1, 2, 3, and 4 rooms type; all rooms being on the ground floor. They are designed to reduce the drudgery of house-keeping to the minimum, intended especially for the women who are in government employ during the day time, but who desire convenient attractive suburban homes; the one room house for instance will make a singularly complete convenient home. The room itself is 18 x 20 ft., and serves as a living-room with a screened dining-room table in one corner. At one end three small apartments are made; one for bath and dressing-cove which is screened by portiers during the day, and a small electric kitchen with pantry closets. It is said that with the modern electric cooking apparatus, house work is materially reduced, and when the Charter was given to the Electric Light Co., for furnishing Current, a special contract was made by which the Virginia Highlands residents have Current for cooking at 1-2 the usual rate. This makes the Electric kitchen, the rule in this suburb, and it is said that the expense is even less than for gas.

There are hundreds of women in the government employ in Washington who receive good salaries and who desire suburban homes of their own with all the comforts that such offered. There has been a great demand from this class as the Virginia Highlands property appeals to refined people of moderate means These model houses will be grouped around a garden court which while giving near neighbors, will afford absolute privacy. These little homes are charming in design with red roofs and white walls with gardens and window boxes as decoration. They are of poured cement The cost of the smallest houses will hardly exceed $500.00 and it is proposed to sell these on a monthly rental plan. In most suburban development restrictions are made on the lowest cost house which may be built irrespective of it's design or artistic appearance. At Virginia Highland the cost was not the basis if restriction, and the result has been the many charming California bungalow and cottages have been constructed which would be ruled out by the usual restriction. The Virginia Highlands Association furnishes attractive plans for these new type houses free of charge to lot purchasers. In this new suburb, house-building has been encouraged in every way possible, as rapid up-growth and development are of the greatest importance. To the purchasers who have but a few hundred dollars, the Association gives a deed in fee simple upon the payment of $100.00; the balance in payment for the property to be made monthly after the house is completed. In this way, it is possible for the purchaser to build through a Building & Loan Association who finances the house as it goes on. The monthly payments paying toward the land after the house is finished. This plan has placed home ownership within the reach of hundreds of families who could not consider it without such co-operation.

CASTLE AND STATION BURNED

Militants Will Add Murder to Other Crimes.

Ballikinrain Castle, at Balfron, in Stirlingshire, Scotland, was almost entirely destroyed yesterday by fire The entire interior of the castle was burned out and only the walls remained. The police said that women were seen lurking in the neighborhood on several ocasions lately, and they are sure that the fire was the work of "arsonettes."

The loss on the castle is estimated at $350,000. Its total cost was about $500,000, but the owner recently sold the place to a syndicate and much of the costly furniture, had been removed.

Investigation by the police showed that the castle's fire hose had been cut to ribbons before the blaze was set.

The Leuchars Railway Station, near St. Andrews, was totally burned yeserday, and suffragetes also are blamed for that fire.

The London Daily Express states the government has received information that a small but dangerous section of militant suffragettes are determined to add murder to their campaign of outrage immediately if any suffragette dies in jail. Should any hunger strike prove fatal the life of no cabinet minister will be safe. Two prominent ministers in particular will be in peril.

POLICE SAVE CABINET MEN.

Fight Suffrage Mob Near Homes of Asquith And Lloyd George.

London, July 1.—A mob of militant suffragists, led by Miss Silva Pankhurst, yesterday stormed Downing street, in which are located the residences of Prime Minister Asquith and Chancellor David Lloyd-George. After a fierce struggle, lasting for some time, the police repulsed the suffragettes and arrested five of the male members of the party.

The attack on the homes of Cabinet members was fomented by a speech delivered by Miss Pankhurst at Trafalgar Square, in which she denounced Home Secretary McKenna for "killing my mother." In her speech Miss Pankhurst said:

"The last and worst outrage committed by means of the 'Cat and Mouse' law is that my mother is slowly dying and other suffrage prisoners are in the same plight. It would be better for them to be hanged than to be sentenced to die by inches. During the past week my mother's hair has turned white. In Downing street there are but a handful of greedy cowards. We could imprison them in their houses if we went there now. What are you going to do?

Miss Pankhurst then jumped from the van which had served her as a platform and led a band of the suffrage enthusiasts toward Downing street. As the party marched through the streets it seemed to gain in numbers. The police hurried a large squad of reserves to the blocks in which the Cabinet members homes are located, and in this way managed to hold back the frenzied women and their male supporters.

Donner of No. 400 West Fourth st., is confined to his home as a result of the injuries sustained. Donner, with his older brother and another boy, were walking through the North Brandywine Park when they stopped in front of the monkey cage, where some negro boys were teasing the animals. The keeper took a monkey from its place of confinement, but it broke away from him and, enraged because of having been teased, it sprang upon Donner and, before the keeper could recapture it, tore one of his legs in several places.

PROPOSES A SUMMER CAPITAL.

Congressman Favors Bulding in Mountain For Congress.

Washington, July 1—The construction of a $250,000 concrete "concrete Summer capitol" on Braddock Heights, near Frederick, Md., or in the Blue Ridge mountains, near Harper's Ferry, W. Va., or Bluemont, Va., has been suggested by Congressman Wm. P. Borland, of Kansas Cty.

Mr. Borland takes the postion that the enormous increase in Congressional work has resulted in summer sessions of Congress and Washington heat is a barrier for effective labor on the part of Representatives. Mr. Borland will introduce a bill into the House on the subject with the hope of bringing the merits and demerits of the proposition in debate.

'It would not be necessary to transfer the whole legislative plant to the mountains," said Mr. Borland. "A building of concrete and steel and two legislative chambers and the necessary committee rooms could be constructed for a limited amount of money, probably for $ 250,000, and certainly well within the half million mark.

The plant is feasible enough, and 98 in the shade within the hall of the House of Representatives is enough to make one think seriously of this proposition."

Frederick, Harpers' Ferry and Bluemont are within two hours' ride of Washington.

DISEASE BAFFLING.

Philadelphia, July 1.—Victim of a strange disease which baffled the surgeons who examined him, Custis Lee Coleman, twenty-five, a well-known young druggist, formerly of Richmond, but more recently of Lexington, Va., died Saturday at a hospital in Philadelphia His body was brought to Richmond and buried in Hollywood today.

For several months the young man had been a great sufferer from peculiar pains in the head. One surgeon diagnosed his case as appendicitis and recommended an operation. Another suspected eye trouble and suggested that an oculist be consulted. Finally, Mr. Coleman, despairing of getting relief here, consulted specialists in Philadelphia, who concluded that he was probably suffering from a tumor in the brain. He became unconscious about a week ago and remained in that condition until death came.

HEAT WAVE IN THE WEST.

Seventy-four Fatalities Reported—Cooler Weather Coming.

Chicago, July 1.—Reports received up to a late hour last night showed that at least 74 persons died yesterday as a result of the heat wave in the central West.

The climax of the torrid wave was reached yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock when the officially recorded temperature was 98.6.

This record, taken by the weather experts 160 feet above the blazing sidewalks and streets of the loop, was two-tenths of a degree hotter than the highest point hitherto reached this year, which was 98.4 on June 15. It marked the zenith of the most memorable June heat spell on record in Chicago, lasting eight days with a temperature above 90 degrees each day.

Reports indicate that the heat wave was generally broken throughout the Middle West. Showers fell in Nebraska, Missouri, and Kansas during the day, and temperatures were lower.

TO THE PEOPLE OF VIRGINIA.

In announcing my candidacy for the Lieutenant Governorship of this old Commonwealth, it probably becomes a duty to define my position on State affairs, and present for your support such claims as I may have. That is if anyone can lay claims for public service, which I seriously doubt, as I believe all service given to the public should be rendered from patriotic, rather than selfish motives.

From boyhood I have devoted time, means, energy and what ability I possessed to the advancement of Democracy and the people of my State and county.

In 1869 as a boy of 18 I published The Commercial Advertiser in Alexandria, and advocated WHITE SUPREMACY and the CONSERVATIVE TICKET, headed by Gilbert C. Walker, my paper being the second paper in Virginia to espouse his cause, and the first Democratic paper to do so. Colonel Walker's personal organ was published in Norfolk. The wisdom of such action, although at first resented, was later acknowledged by the entire Democratic press and people of the State by the election of the Conservative Ticket and the establishment of WHITE RULE in the Commonwealth.

The Force Bill.

During the discussion of the FORCE BILL in 1891, in the United States Senate, after it had passed the House by a large majority, I asked my friend, Senator John J. Ingalls, of Kansas, acting Vice-President, to vote against the bill and he told me he would, but that he was going to leave the city the next day at 2 o'clock for Kansas to look after his election. I then asked him to pair against the bill, which he did (See pages 1739-40, Cong. Record, January 22, 1891). This meant a change of two votes against the bill. When it is remembered that this infamous measure was only defeated in the Senate by one vote (34 to 35) it seems that it should be recognized that I have been of some use to the people of Virgina and the entire South.

Author of the Pure Food Bill.

It was at my request that Gen. Wm. H. F. Lee, of Fairfax, introduced the Pure Food Bill in Congress, which I followed up for 18 years until it was finally perfected and passed.

In 1872, while on the Richmond Enquirer, I reported the campaign of General Kemper, and received from him a letter stating that my work had done as much as any man in Virginia to secure the triumph of Democracy when defeat would have resulted in Negro rule and the ruin of Virginia.

For twenty years I served the farmers of the State through the Grange, trying to persuade them to organize, as they should have, and thus prepared to meet Monopoly with Organization. Yet while opposing monopoly I never opposed legitimate enterprise or corporations that attended to the business for which they were chartered, when they did not interfere with political and industrial interests, to the detriment of the people, recognizing that corporations properly and honestly conducted were needful and helpful to the community.

While in the State and national Granges I earnestly advocated the Primary System for nominating candidates for public office.

I was among the first, if not the first, in the Virginia State Grange to advocate the direct election of United States Senators by the people.

I advocated and worked for the Interstate and State Commerce Commissions and the elevation to a Cabinet position of the head of the Agricultural Department. I also warmly advocated the creation of the State Agricultural Department.

Opposed Destruction of Bureau of Animal Industry.

When the Armours and others of the Cattle Ring in the 52nd Congress tried to destroy the Agricultural Department by robbing it of the Bureau of Animal Industry, I laid the facts before the American farmers through the State and Subordinate Granges and was directed by them to present to their Senators and Representatives petitions AGAINST the Palmer Bill which contained over 1,000,000 names, the result being that the author of the Bill requested Senator Chas. J. Faulkner, of West Virgina (who led the farmers' fight), to move that the Bill be placed at the bottom of the Calendar, which he did, and the rotten measure met a deserved fate, without having a chance to come to a vote.

I have always tried to serve my State and Party and do what was within my power to keep political control in the hands of the WHITE RACE and I shall continue to do so.

During these years when the farmers were in the saddle, in other States, and their leaders were seeking political preferment AND SECURING IT, I blieved that to use my official connection with the Grange to further personal political aspirations would be a breach of trust to the people whom I represented, and although both the Master and Secretary of the State Grange of Virginia actively entered politics against Democracy and both secured offices, I discouraged such action and while acting for the State Grange Legislative Committee refused to accept from Commissioner Colman a most flattering position, and from Secretary Rusk any office while Congress was in session.

In 1896 I believe that the work performed by me aided materially in saving the State for Bryan and Democracy, and doubtless members of the State Democratic and Populist committees of that year could verify this statement.

I believe that it will be agreed by all who know me that when I have a conviction, that no one man or set of men can change me from what I believe to be right and for the best interest of my people and party.

The Charge of Being a Ring Candidate False.

This leads to the statement that several papers in the State have seen fit to charge that I am a candidate brought out by the "Ring" in their interest. I can assure the writers that "The Ring" has no very great friendship for me and it knows that when I differ from their views I never hesitate in following my own convictions and have always done what I considered to be for the best interest of the people, without regard to others. In proof thereof, I cite:

That on the occasions when I ran for State Senator from the Fourteenth Senatorial District the "Ring" has always opposed me.

That on numerous occasions I have differed from the "powers that be" in regard to State matters and candidates, and in such cases I have never hesitated to oppose them, notably:

I actively worked for the MAY CONVENTION and was a delegate from Fairfax thereto. This convention was the first organized effort in Virginia to secure a direct vote for United States Senators by the people.

I supported Harry St. George Tucker for Governor and believe I was instrumental in materially assisting his successful canvass in Alexandria and Fairfax.

I believe in organization, knowing, as every sensible man who knows aught of politics must know, that no party can succeed unless organized; dictation, however, is another matter and should not be tolerated.

All this talk about "Rings," however, comes from the ring (with a little "r") on the outside which desires to become "THE RING" with a big R on the inside.

Between the two, the people are the Court of Last Resort, and must decide whether it is the part of wisdom to turn out capable, honest, patriotic, experienced men, who have been tried and proven, and substitute, as an experiment, inexperienced and untried men.

Reason for Supporting Senators.

I have supported our present Senators because I have closely watched their good work in Congress to secure important things for Virginia and their party. While not always agreeing with them, I believe that no State in the Union has more devoted or more patriotic representatives in the United States Senate than Virginia now has, and, knowing this, when they were before the people I believed that to turn them out for no better reason than to place others in their positions would simply have been best illustrated by Easop's fable of the Fox and The Flies.

Before leaving this subject I will add that I had seen no me of the so-called "Ring" before deciding to run for this position did I seek their advice, but consulted with friends of many standing, and then determined to stand for your suffrages.

An Advocate of Good Roads.

Over thirty years ago I advocated the building of good roads by State and County co-operation with the use of convict labor and my articles on the subject were copied and endorsed by the Richmond Dispatch and other leading papers throughout the State. I believe now, as then, that no greater good can come to Virginia than to build good highways, as it will unquestionably add largely to land values and thus increase the revenues by increasing the taxable basis.

One of the principal issues before the people today is the question of

and while it is to be regretted that such a question should enter our State politics, if it is dragged in by those who seek to profit by using such questions to advance their private interests, far be it from me to dodge or hedge on the question.

I am a Democrat and do not believe in Paternalism—I deny the the right of any man or community, OUTSIDE OF MY OWN LOCALITY, to dictate to me what I shall eat, or what I shall drink, or wherewithal shall I be clothed, and it is undeniable that if one of the three is logically correct the other is equally so. On the other hand, however, I do believe that each locality has a right to regulate the liquor traffic in its midst.

State-wide prohibition would no more prevent the sale or consumption of liquor in Virginia than it has prevented it in Maine and Kansas and other so-called "dry" States in the past half century, and I know from personal experience that such laws are openly and brazenly ignored.

In my home County of Fairfax we have local option, and were the question an issue in my neighborhood I most assuredly would vote to continue the present status; but where proper police protection can be secured I deem it better that those who sell liquor should bear part, at least, of the expense that its consumption costs the State and community, rather than that liquor should be sold by the "Boot-legger," or in "The Speakeasy," thus creating three sets of law-breakers—the seller, the purchaser and the official who winks (generally for a consideration) at the sale, thus increasing disregard for law and making the violation of other statutes easier.

Some Other Matters.

In a circular addressed to the voters of the Fourteenth Senatorial District I charged:

1st. That the present system in vogue in State and county affairs were extravagant and wasteful and should be corrected.

2d. That taxes and licenses for business purposes were excessive and pointed out the facts that while the levy in Virginia was 40 cents, across the Potomac Maryland only charged 26 cents on the $100.

3d. That the road funds were wasted.

4. That the criminal expenses were excessively high.

5th. That legal delays were not only expensive to both litigants and the State, but were extremely annoying, and should be corrected.

6th. That our present system of assessment and liquor licence are radically wrong and should be changed so as to have both assessments and licenses issued by

Boards of Excise and Assessment.

At present the power vested in the Assessor and Judge is too great to be exercised by any one man, especially in the case of liquor license where the Judge not only has the power to grant the license, but also sits upon the case as trial Judge in cases of violation of the law, thereby giving him double hold over the dealers, placing them under too much obligation to and fear of the judge. Such a system is not only outrageous, but it is an injustice to both the judge and the dealer.

7th. That the railroad taxes as at present distributed discriminate in favor of certain localities and therefore are unjust to the greater part of the counties and towns.

8th. That the fee system should be abolished and all officials paid fair salaries, while all fees should go into the State Treasury.

9th. That the public service should be run on business principles, as any intelligent firm is conducted.

10th. That the children of the State should be furnished with school books free.

I believe that the State should provide liberally for our old soldiers.

In concluding I must apologize for the length of this article, but it seems impossible to present the case more briefly.

Like Mayor Gaynor, of New York, in announcing his candidacy, I cannot claim an organization at my back, and, like him turn to the people of my State and ask their support, leaving them to judge whether I should receive it, submitting any claim I may have upon my record as presented.

It would be a physical impossibility were I financially able to attempt a canvass of the State in the limited time before the primary August 5th, especially as I lay no claims to oratory, and therefore take this method of addressing you.

Should you honor me with your vote I shall strive to serve your interest and promote the welfare of our old State as to meet your approval.

Very respectfully,

ALEX. J. WEDDERBURN.

Wedderburn, Fairfax County, Va., June 18th, 1913.
